ALLIES MARK UP SMASHING NEW VICTORY

Over 6,000 Taken Prisoner in Drive On Tunisian Front

By ROGER GREENE
Associated Press War Editor

Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's British 8th Army marked up a smashing new victory over the German Africa Corps in Tunisia today, capturing more than 6,000 prisoners and driving the enemy from the Wadi El Akarit defense zone after a bombardment by 500 big guns.

British infantry, charging with bayonets, seized all key positions in the line in seven and one-half hours of assault, it was announced.

Simultaneously, dispatches from Allied headquarters said the American 2nd Army Corps had lashed out in a heavy attack from the El Guejar sector, on the road to the sea.

Accurate-firing U. S. 155 MM guns earlier had destroyed three heavy German howitzers in that area with direct hits at 16,000 yards—more than nine miles—and Allied planes had smashed a large concentration of Axis tanks.

News of the 8th Army's spectacular triumph was disclosed to a cheering parliament in London by Prime Minister Churchill, who declared:

"Rommel's army is now retreating northward and being hotly pursued."

In Tunisia, Rommel's retreat from El Akarit left the Axis chief in precarious straits, with his next logical defense area lying at Sfax or even Sousse, the latter only 110 miles below the northern anchor at Bizerte.

London quarters said the capture of 6,000 more prisoners, along with 8,000 seized in the Mareth line battle 10 days ago, meant that Rommel had lost about 17 per cent of his 80,000-man army, not counting dead and wounded.

(An Allied communique listed the number of prisoners taken at El Akarit as 5,000.)

Rommel still had a force of perhaps 170,000 troops under Col. Gen. Jürgen von Arnim in the north, however, to bolster his hard-nit Africa corps.

Two U. S. armored columns, under the command of Lieut.-Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., have been driving toward the coast from the El Guejar and Maknassy sectors and were last reported within 40 miles of a junction with the 8th army.

Indications were that Rommel had attempted a definite stand, but once again had been unable to endure the 8th army's terrific fire power, the cold steel of Montgomery's veteran infantry and the fury of Allied aerial power.

In the skies, American and Allied planes again carried out "heavy and very successful" attacks on Axis shipping in the narrow channel of the Gulf of Tunis.

BULLETINS

Millville, N. J., April 7.—(P)—A forest fire which had burned 2,500 acres of scrub pines overnight despite the efforts of 300 fire-fighters still raged out of control today in the Baileytown neighborhood, nine miles southeast of here.

Georgetown, Del., April 7.—(P)—Black market operations are keeping millions of pounds of poultry off Philadelphia, New York and other eastern markets and speeding the shut down of large eastern shore packing plants, Norman C. Platt, of Georgetown, executive secretary of the Eastern Poultry Institute, said last night.

Washington, April 7.—(P)—Legislation to curb "excessive" profits realized by commission sales agents for procuring government war contracts was approved by the house naval committee today by a 16 to 0 roll call vote.

York, April 7.—(P)—Protesting the suspension of three pupils for subordination, more than 100 of the 155 pupils of the Manchester High School remained away from classes this morning.

Kittanning, April 7.—(P)—Pay raises voted to Kittanning borough employees March 12 vanished yesterday after the town council failed by one vote to override Burgess Jacob J. Maxeiner's veto of the ordinance.

Pittsburgh, April 7.—(P)—Approximately 2600 steel workers went on strike today at the Edgar Thompson plant of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp.

DELAY DRIVE TO WIPE OUT VETO ACTION

Farm Leaders Seek to Send Bankhead Bill Back To Agricultural Committee

BARKLEY STILL FIGHTS

By JACK BELL

Washington, April 7.—(P)—Routed in immediate efforts to override President Roosevelt's veto of the Bankhead bill, the farm bloc today fought a rear guard action to delay a senate test on the measure until a time it considers more opportune.

Farm leaders seek to send the vetoed bill to the senate agriculture committee, hinting broadly they hope to renew their drive to wipe out the veto after settlement of the current wage increase demands of John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers.

Arrayed against them, however, they find a determined administration leadership with James F. Byrnes, the economic director—termed "the master strategist" by Senator Bankhead (D-Ala.)—pulling strings behind the scenes to dispose of the measure now.

After carrying the hunt of the bill to the senate floor, Democratic Leader Barkley of Kentucky told reporters he would fight to keep the bill from becoming "a shotgun behind the door" which might be used as an argument for altering present economic stabilization formulas.

The measure would force price control officials to disregard benefit payments made to farmers in establishing agricultural price ceilings. President Roosevelt said such a move would be inflationary, but the bill's supporters denied this.

Bankhead claimed sufficient votes to retire his bill to the committee for another day's fighting and Barkley did not dispute his claim. But the Democratic leader said he thought the senate ought to settle the issue once and for all not leave it plaguing the president in his attempts to "move on all fronts."

Mr. Roosevelt remarked at his press conference that the move to send the bill to committee was one way of not having to commit yourself.

★ Back our Warren County Boys with BONDS!

It's our boys, the boys you know, the boys you used to see on the streets, in the movies, working next to you in your job—these are the boys we're talking about!

They've got a new job, many of them, a job that takes tools like machine guns, tanks and tank destroyers, planes—everything modern war needs for victory!

Take Claude Schindler, for example. Many of you know Claude—he was a "star" on the Warren High football team—you saw him when you went in the Warren National Bank. He's one of our boys. Last we heard, Claude was over in Africa ready to face tough, seasoned Nazi troops—Stuka dive bombers—Mark VI tanks.

And then there are the other boys from the Warren National—Vernon Swanson in the Navy, and Frank Willard, Richard Swanson, and Eugene Pring getting their training in camps in this country so they will be ready to go wherever the Army wants them.

Do these and our other Warren boys have what they need—plenty of it and on time? We know they have the courage, pray to God they have the weapons to back up that courage!

The very least we here at home can do is make sure that we're doing all we can to give our boys everything they need to do the job.

Let's stop thinking in generalities—it's too easy, that way, to think supplying the weapons of war is somebody else's job.

It's OUR job to see OUR boys get what they need—OUR job to see that OUR Claudes, OUR Franks, OUR Richards, OUR Eugenes—OUR Warren boys get them!

Let's back 'em... every one... everyone... with Bonds!

Youngsville Civic Bodies At Meetings

Youngsville, April 7.—All members and Burgess Warren Kay were present Monday evening at the meeting of the Youngsville council. The council approved of F. W. White as the borough superintendent. He took over his duties on April 1st, coming here from Russell, and expects soon to have his family here.

It was decided by the council, when work is done by the borough for property owners, to add, above the cost of labor, ten percent as an additional charge.

The secretary of the borough was asked to notify all those whose accounts for the putting in of sidewalks were now past due, that the accounts must be paid.

The sewer committee was requested to inspect the lift station of the sewer system located on the west side of the Brokenstraw creek and to report improvements which they consider necessary.

There was a report concerning the nine weeks of borough officers school in Warren, which has been attended by the following officers and members: Borough council president, Gilbert Sanford; members—Earl Young and Leo Johnson and borough secretary, Miss Margaret Brazee.

Those attending the school reported that fine progress was being made and that much helpful information was received in regard to many forms of borough business.

Report Made At Meeting Of Cemetery

H. J. Sandblade is Re-Elected on Board at Annual Session Tuesday

IMPROVEMENTS LISTED

At the annual meeting of Oakland cemetery held last evening following the regular weekly session of Warren Lodge No. 339, I. O. O. F., H. J. Sandblade, who has been a member of the board of trustees since April, 1922, was re-elected to that position for another five-year term.

The only other business transacted at the meeting was the reading of the annual report of the president, E. M. Hutchens, which showed that during the year 1942 interments and three removals were made in the cemetery, and that a marked increase was shown in both lot and stone vault sales.

Other facts of general interest in the report were as follows: "The tent was used 23 times during the year, which is an all-time record."

"An extension of 105 single graves was laid out adjoining single section No. 4 and sewers were laid accordingly. Ground has been prepared and seeded for a new two-grave section, from which lots will be sold this summer."

"No major improvements are contemplated at the present time due to the war. However, plans for road improvements are being considered when conditions permit. 215 feet of brick pavement was relaid and both cemetery houses were painted."

It also revealed that a total of $18,500 was invested in U. S. Government Bonds, Series "G". The original audit report submitted by Nelson E. Woodard, public accountant, of Jamestown, N. Y., for the year ending February 28, 1943, was submitted and placed on file.

A rising vote of thanks was given the board of trustees for their faithful and untiring services. It was revealed that twelve regular and two special sessions were held during the past year.

FORGE BAND CONCERT

At the Monday evening meeting of the Youngsville borough council approval was given for the use of the auditorium on April 30 for the holding of a concert by the National Forge band, augmented by other musicians from the vicinity. The Music Boosters are also interested in promoting this concert.

The school board also approved granting the use of the gymnasium to the Boy Scouts of Youngsville for a First Aid demonstration. The date for this event will be announced soon.

The request of the student council also was approved for the holding of a May Day program during the early part of May.

Announcement was made that the school Easter vacation would include the Friday before Easter and the Monday after Easter.

There was some consideration of the expense budget for the next school year but the final decision on this matter was left to be considered more fully at an adjourned meeting to be held some time this month.

DINNER AND BOARD MEETING

The Methodist Sunday school board met Monday evening for a dinner meeting. With regret the resignation of the assistant superintendent of the church school was received. The vacancy has not yet been filled. Some plans concerning the improvement of the church school rooms were considered.

The meeting of the Official Board of the church followed. Announcement was made that members would be received into the church and a baptismal service held on Palm Sunday. In the afternoon of this date, April 18, there will be a sacred concert given in the Methodist church by the high school choir, under the direction of Byron Swanson. On Easter Sunday morning there will be an Easter sermon and service and in the evening the Methodist church choir will present a cantata, under the direction of Freeman Brown.

Lewis Heads Warren Elks For This Year

Delbert W. Lewis was elevated to the office of exalted ruler of the Warren Lodge of Elks at the semi-monthly meeting held last evening with a large crowd in attendance. Other new officers are as follows: Leading knight, H. J. Harvey; loyal knight, John G. Smallman; lecturing knight, C. T. Berdine; secretary, E. C. Lynch; treasurer, E. M. Branch; tiler, C. S. Kirchartz; trustee, P. C. Ostergard; representative to grand lodge, D. W. Lewis; alternate, P. E. Nelson.

The installation was in charge of B. S. Burns, district deputy, of Reynoldsville lodge, who was assisted by the following past exalted rulers of Warren Lodge: P. M. Printz, A. A. Albaugh, H. J. Christensen, R. L. Ruhlman, A. C. Kirberger, Jr., Dr. D. A. Smith, A. L. Schellhammer, P. E. Nelson and Joseph Goldstein.

In a brief speech the new exalted ruler, who succeeds H. D. Baker, who held the position during the past term, pledged untiring effort to make the year a success and urged whole-hearted cooperation of all members of the lodge.

A feature of the installation was the fact that it marked the 23rd year that C. S. Kirchartz has been installed as tiler of the lodge. Upon special mention of the fact by one of the members, Mr. Kirchartz was loudly applauded.

The district deputy was accompanied by John A. Baldauf, P.E.R., of Reynoldsville. Another visitor was J. W. Wynhom, of Ambridge.

TIMES TOPICS

WASHINGTON CLASS
Washington Class members of the First Lutheran church will hold their regular meeting Thursday evening at the home of Clarence Lawson, 109 Terrace street.

LENTEN DEVOTIONS
In addition to the impressive litany to be used in tonight's 7:30 Lenten service in the First Lutheran church, Pastor H. A. Rinard will speak on "The Soul in No Man's Land". Mrs. W. E. Yeager and Mrs. J. B. Leidig will sing a duet, "By Gift of Love" from Marks' Easter cantata.

CARNIVAL AT RUSSELL
Seniors of Russell High School will present their annual carnival on Friday, April 9, in the IOOF hall. In connection with this event, a dance and auditorium show will take place on the evening of the 10th. A large crowd is anticipated as proceeds are to be used for essential things for the school.

BOOSTS SUGGESTED
Pay raises of 15 per cent for school janitors, janitors, secretaries and stenographers, caretakers and clerks are asked in a resolution introduced in the House by Representative Wallin, (R-Center county). The bill does not carry any appropriation from the state but all increases would have to be assumed by local authorities.

LIONS SEE MOVIE
"Sand in the Gears" was the topic for an entertaining and instructive sound movie shown at the Tuesday luncheon-meeting of the Lions Club in the YWCA activities building. Reports were made on progress of the "early diagnosis by x-ray" campaign which is being staged this month by the Lions and the Warren County Tuberculosis Society. Rose Sigworth, tuberculosis society nurse, was a guest.

WORKERS GET RAISE
Increases of five to 15 cents an hour in the maximum wage rates of 453 employees of the Elliott Company, Ridgway, Pa., were approved by the regional war labor board yesterday. The rates are retroactive to Nov. 1, 1942, and in most cases bring the scales up to a par with those paid at the company's larger plant at Jeanette, Pa. The company manufactures equipment for the navy and merchant marine.

COMMANDO RALLY PLANNED

Tomorrow afternoon at the South Street School Building there will be a rally of Junior Commandos. In fact every boy and girl who lives east of the Conewago creek is asked to attend this rally. It is hoped to enroll several hundreds of young people in the Commando group. There will be a Lieutenant of the Commandos present at the rally and he will discuss the work that lies ahead for the group and explain how the boys and girls can aid in the winning of the war. The meeting will open at 3:30 and will last until 4:30 and it will be packed with interest for everyone attending.

Magazine And Radio Writer
Visits Warren

Margaret Lukes Wise, nationally known magazine and newspaper writer, paid a visit to the Times-Mirror plant today in conjunction with a trip to Warren county as senior editor of the farm placement program of the War Manpower Commission for Pennsylvania.

Her home is in Lansdowne, with temporary assignment in Harrisburg, her work bringing her here last night for the farm labor shortage meeting held at the court house. She is making the Carver Hotel her headquarters while in town.

Mrs. Wise's articles have appeared in Saturday Evening Post, American Magazine, Ladies' Home Journal, This Week Magazine, Woman's Day and various other national publications. As a contributor to the Country Gentleman of Curtis Publications, she has specialized for the past year in rural problems.

Mrs. Wise is a dyed-in-the-wool newspaper woman who spent eight years on the Philadelphia Public Ledger and she paid tribute to the modern, well equipped plant of the Times-Mirror.

In addition to her activity in the writing field, Mrs. Wise has recently achieved a place in the motion picture and radio field. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer will shortly release one of her comedies, one of three recently sold to Hollywood.

She has collaborated in writing and appearing on two network radio series programs, one over National, the other over the Mutual hookup. One of her radio efforts has been a daily woman's serial popularly known as "soap opera."

This writer has lectured extensively, appearing by invitation before the Women's National Press Club in Washington and before women's organizations in many leading cities.

Tiredness, lack of energy, loss of appetite and weight and a cough that hangs on may be danger signals of tuberculosis.

The slogan of the ordnance division of the Army is: "The difficult things we do immediately. The impossible takes a little longer."

Personal Paragraphs

John Brown announces in another column that this will be the last week that he will take orders for removing trees, due to other business ventures.

Mrs. Richard Evans, Cayuga avenue, has left for Baltimore, Md., where she will visit her daughter, Mrs. Richard Curren, and family and be present for the second birthday anniversary of her granddaughter, Susan Curren.

R. A. Pickup, divisional operations manager of the Pennsylvania Electric Company, was here today from Erie on business.

Lyle Briggs, of Tidouite, was a Warren visitor today.

Clarence A. Lawson, employed as storekeeper for the Pennsylvania Electric Company here, has been promoted through his appointment to the post of storekeeper in Erie, effective next week. His wife and son, Richard, Terrace street, will accompany him to Erie next week. Succeeding him will be Delos Henry, who has been employed in the meter department.

Mrs. Vernon Mack, of Stone, is home again after spending a few days with her son, Harold, who was graduated last Friday as machinist's mate third class at the naval training station at Great Lakes, Ill. He left Saturday for assignment to a gunner's school but his destination was not announced. Mrs. Mack was accompanied to Chicago by her sister-in-law, Mrs. George Zobrist, of Buffalo, N. Y.

Mrs. Clara Hoskins, 6 Glenwood street, left last evening for Cleveland, O., and will attend the second performance by the Metropolitan Opera Company in the Cleveland Public Auditorium.

Mrs. Edith D. Davidson, Harrisburg, advisor of Home Economics Education, and Miss Arlein M. Schure of Warren, regional advisor of Home Economics for Warren, McKean and Elk counties will make a tour of inspection of the Home Economics departments in the following Elk county high schools today: Wilcox, Johnsonburg, St. Marys and Weedville.

CHURCH REVIVALS

PILGRIM HOLINESS
Evangelist J. H. Philpot, of Fredonia, Kans., will be speaking each evening throughout the remainder of this week in The Little White Church in Fourth avenue. Services begin promptly at 7:30 with a spirited song service in charge of Ruth Nuby, colored singer. The series has been well attended and a treat is in store for all who hear these leaders preach and sing the gospel.

PUBLIC RALLY MONDAY

Forest Fire Dangers Are Outlined

Various committee reports and routine matters occupied most of the time at yesterday's session of the Warren County Ministerial Association, held in the YMCA and presided over by Dr. J. A. Davidson.

Pleading for "the preservation and conservation of our extensive forest reserves, God's own beautiful handiwork," George E. Spiny, of the U. S. Forest Service, called upon the pastors to urge their people to do all within their power to prevent destruction of these valuable assets by fire.

He pointed out that existing weather conditions and the shortage of manpower to fight forest fires make it paramount that all exercise more precaution than ever before. His urgent plea was very favorably received and heartily endorsed by the ministers.

Dr. Davidson also stressed importance of the community meeting to be held in the Presbyterian church, April 16 for the purpose of stimulating more interest in the buying of War Bonds.

Rev. Harry Johnson, of Kinzua, conducted devotions and Rev. Ivan E. Rossell, of Sheffield, offered the closing prayer.

Cub Pack To Get Charter
At Sheffield

The new charter for Cub Pack No. 35 Sheffield will be presented to the Pack leaders as a part of their regular monthly Pack meeting program at the Washington school Thursday evening, April 8. Mr. W. P. Dorrien, chairman of the Pack committee will receive the charter and current membership cards from Mr. Walter S. Cox and E. Wilbur Johnson, representing the Warren County Council, Boy Scouts of America.

The Pack theme for this month has been Aviation. The Cubs have been making kites and model airplanes to exhibit to their parents. Each Den will present a dramatic stunt dealing with some part of the history of aviation.

The members of the Pack committee responsible for the administration of the cubbing program are Mr. W. P. Dorrien, chairman; E. W. Cederlof, James I. Mong, Wayne Chamberlain and L. O. Eisenbauer. The Cubmaster is Mr. Gust A. Gustafson, and the Den mothers are Mrs. Elizabeth Chamberlain and Mrs. Elmer Nelson.

TIMES TOPICS

OLD GUARDS TO MEET
The Old Guards will meet at the Y. M. C. A. Friday afternoon and the speaker will be Miss Helen Lauffenburger, who will outline the work of the Red Cross.

TOO MANY ACRES
County Agent O. C. Tritt in his statements on potatoes yesterday stated that last year the county produced about 250,000 bushels of potatoes and that this year the crop will be heavier. The typographers gently made the article read 250,000 acres instead of bushels and Mr. Tritt feels that this is just a few too many acres.

OFF TO CONFERENCE
Warren's delegation to the gasoline protest meeting being held in Pittsburgh left this morning for Pittsburgh by automobile. Burgess Raymond Steber headed the delegation with Don Smith, president of the Warren Chamber of Commerce, Homer Mohr, president of the Automobile Association and Leonard M. Whiteshot, president of the Gasoline Dealers Association. The meeting will be attended by delegations from most of the cities of Western Pennsylvania the district discriminated against by the gasoline restrictions.

WINS CASH PRIZE
Prize winners just announced for 51st annual exhibition of the National Association of Women Artists, Inc., include the Cooper Prize of $100 to Gene Alden Walker, of New York and Warren, for her "Nostalgia." Given honorable mention in the Celine Backland Prize entries was "Butterwoman" by Marion Sanford, also of Warren. The exhibition, which opened Monday at the American Fine Arts Galleries, 215 West 57th street, will continue through April 24. It is of interest to local friends, also that the Backland prize referred to above was divided between two entries, one of which was a landscape painting by Eunice Vibberts, who resides at Scarsdale, N. Y., and is a sister of Gene Walker.

ON BEATING THE GAME!

If the old shoes have to be repaired for the party, what of it? If the "best comic in any newspaper" is missing, life may yet go on. If there isn't any meat tonight, and there wasn't any yesterday, and the sugar is low and the coffee is weak, a day's work may still be done, and a night's sleep may follow it—unbroken, either of them, by bombs.

Buying at black markets and chiseling in the declaration of cans on the shelf are not the way to beat the game. Unfairness of any sort merely makes matters worse for everybody, including the cheater, in the long run and sometimes in the short.

There's just one way to beat it. Put the shoulder firmly to the wheel, work a little harder, do with a little less, and buy bonds, buy bonds, buy bonds. The war is the cause of all the troubles, and that's the way to shorten the war. The sooner it's over, too, the more boys will come safely home.

WHAT'S ON THEIR MINDS?

With that investigation under way at the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation it would be interesting to have some telepathic entree into the minds of the inspectors who juggled steel tests, now that they know that the tanker Schenectady broke because of alleged criminal negligence.

Have they been lying awake nights, wondering whether other brittle steel has found its way into warships, where it could cause them to crack up just when the fate of a battle or a convoy hangs in the balance?

No punishment will be too severe for the persons responsible for that situation, from underlings who winked to the highest superiors who instructed or acquiesced.

In the absence of the burgess, we take the liberty of presenting the "keys to the city" to officials and delegates of Erie Presbyterian in Warren today and tomorrow to attend the spring meeting. It is indeed a pleasure to join with the congregation of First Presbyterian church in the whole-hearted welcome extended the visitors.

This is the time for Warren householders to arrange to convert from oil to coal. Furnaces soon will be out for the summer. Early birds will have first calls on necessary equipment, on the service of plumbers, on the coal they will need next winter. Those who wait too long may lose out on any or all of these.

Warren is honored today by the presence of Angelina Johnson, of Erie, state president of the V. F. W. Auxiliary, and Deputy Chief of Staff Siegel, of the same city, who will make an official visitation to the local auxiliary this evening.

Why doesn't some person turn on the heat?

LENTEN SERMONETTE

BY REV. J. E. KIFFER,
First Free Methodist Church, Warren

THE RESURRECTION OUR HOPE

In redemption Christ had two great acts to perform. First, He was to die for our sins I Cor. 15:3. Second, He must rise from the grave for our justification, Romans 4:25.

The first act brought atonement, the second hope. True to the original pattern man still has the desire for immortality. If it were not for the resurrection of Christ, man's question still would be, who shall open for us the door of the sepulchre?

Man's way to happiness is often crossed by troubles we live first, in anticipation, second, by experience, third, by retrospection. Doubts and fears of the future spoil the peace of multitudes. As the women found their answer in the open tomb, so we find an answer to our fears in the risen Christ.

However man may account for Christ's disappearance from the tomb, the angel's explanation was, "He is not here," the Bible explanation, "He is risen as he said he would."

The prison house once secure by guard, seal and stone is now without a door. How like Gaius, the Philistine's stronghold without the gate Samson had carried away. What power has the grave to hold, with its door rolled away? See the angel sitting on the stone defying any or all power to replace it. What a resting place for the fearful, faith can find anchorage in this rock.

This stone casts a dark shadow for some. Like the pillar of cloud, light for Israel, darkness for the Egyptians. The resurrection a doctrine of hope for some, a hope and comfort for others.

May we be found on the side of the stone with the women and the angel, rather than on the side with the guard and their fear.

T-H-O-U-G-H-T-S

Because he considereth, and turneth away from all his transgressions, that he hath committed, he shall surely live, he shall not die.—Ezekiel 18:28.

He comes never late who comes repentant.—Juan de Horozco.

Our Greatest Blessing: The American Sense of Humor

Washington in Wartime

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—Some weeks of off-the-record talks here with military and civilian officials have produced some interesting "shadows of things to come." Take them for what they are worth, but they are the well-sifted consensus of some of your government experts. Here goes:

That there isn't a possibility of knocking Germany out of the picture before 1944. The Nazis, meeting upon the nationalistic fear of what will happen to Germans if they are defeated now, are going to get more cooperation, not less, in the months of waning militaristic power. The Russians, even with U. S. and British lend-lease aids, can't do the job alone. The Axis campaign in North Africa has had but one major objective upsetting the Allied time-table—and it has accomplished that. That doesn't mean a United Nations defeat. It does mean delay.

That it is unlikely that major aid in manpower, manpower or supplies will be diverted to the South Pacific and China immediately. Reduced to its elementary terms, the United States still is fighting a two-front war, with one-front men and equipment. In spite of the unpublishable appeals of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, and the open appeals of Madame Chiang Kai-shek and Lieut. Gen. George C. Kenney, strategists broadly consider the Pacific theater a Navy problem of holding the Japs at bay, while one or more fronts are opened against the Germans and Italians in Europe. Briefly, they contend that it is the only way to take advantage of the magnificent military accomplishment of the Russians. To fail to take advantage of that, they argue, would be to bungle the war.

That very shortly the U. S. submarine war in the Pacific will become a greater thorn in the side of the Japs than the German submarine war is against the United Nations in the Atlantic. "Gay Nineties" strategists in the Navy, who considered the submarine no more than a reconnaissance unit attached to a task force, have either been weeded out or whipped into line by our submarine records. Figures are not available but I would be surprised if our submarines, which probably didn't number more than 60 or 70 effective when the Japs hit Pearl Harbor, haven't by now piled up an official record of 200 Jap ships sunk, and an actual record of nearly twice that. In numbers, that doesn't tie the Nazi Atlantic record. In effect, it may exceed it.

That the next big "inconvenience" Americans will have to take on the home front will be the rationing of train and bus travel.

That the "inflationary spiral"—just plain high cost of living—is in its most critical period, and that events of the next few weeks may determine whether inflation is here to stay or is being checked close to present levels. Straws in the wind will be the outcome of the fight by John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers for wage raises which some claim will upset the government wage-scale program; the fight in Congress to up farm prices; the growth of black markets; the results of the 48-hour week, with presumably fattened pay envelopes; and the federal tax program, which might be a powerful influence for or against inflation, depending upon how deeply it dips into American purses.

Hollywood Gossip

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Margo began life as a Mexican who knew nothing about Mexico. Now she is an American whose greatest career is promoting Latin America.

Confusing? Everything about Margo is. Nothing ever happens to her in the normal way. We'd better start at the beginning.

Her father was Spanish. Her mother was Irish. She was born in Mexico. Therefore, she was a Mexican.

Her original name was Maria Margarita Guadalupe Teresa Estela Bolado y Castilla. Even her family thought it was simpler to call her "Margo."

She came to this country when she was three, started dancing as soon as she walked, and went to public schools in Los Angeles. Her formal dancing training was under Eduardo Canino, father of Rita Hayworth, and then one of the greatest teachers in the world. She was a professional at 12 (though the authorities didn't know it), and was a member of a movie chorus at 13. Jobs came thick and fast. At 14, she was offered a solo spot at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York.

MARGO stayed at the Waldorf nearly two years, during which time she also played with Claude Rains in "Crime Without Passion." Hollywood saw her in that, yelled via telegraph, and she made "Rumba" with Lombard and Raft and "Robin Hood of El Dorado" with Warner Baxter.

At this point, she received a wire from Oscar Serlin: "I am sending you a play written by Maxwell Anderson to star Burgess Meredith. We know you have never acted on a stage, but we want you to read it."

The play was "Winterst." Margo was sensational in it. The picture version followed, then more dancing, and singing with Xavier Cugat's band on the radio.

Margo is not yet 25! She did "Winterst" when she was 17. Two years ago, she went to Mexico for the first time that she could remember. She talked to schoolboys, diplomats, artists, statesmen.

She came back with the desire to help that country in its fight for modernization. Since then, she has played 18 months of roles for the CBS Overseas Division, the Rockefeller Committee, and various domestic shows. For this work, she has received nothing at all or the lowest salary possible under the radio union.

And, though she's now in Hollywood making a picture, she has no thought of giving up this work. She will broadcast to Latin America from California, if she can.

MARGO lives with a secretary in an apartment. She wears brilliant clothes, loves mad color combinations, seldom wears slacks. She adores nearly every kind of music and home-cooked Mexican food.

She has a wide face, enormous blue-gray eyes, and a dancer's figure. She usually wears very high heels because she is only five feet four inches tall. She loves gold jewelry.

She is now an American citizen. But she started out as a Mexican who knew nothing about Mexico. And that's where we came in.

A new radio-operated mechanism transmits instantly from an experimental airplane to laboratory crews on the ground a complete picture of the strains and flutters, characteristics, performance and reactions which occur too quickly in today's aircraft for the pilot to note and record.

A plan to put into effect the share-your-car system for salesmen has been started. Hotels in Alabama and north Florida have blackboards in the lobbies with all available rides listed.

About 12,000 Indians are serving with the U. S. armed forces.

Famous P-40 Pilots Are Rightly Tagged as 'Guerrillas'

(The spectacular feat of one group of P40 fliers in knocking down 34 Nazi planes in eight days is the envy of every other Yank squadron in Tunisia. Here is the story behind their performance as written by Capt. Jay Vessels, public relations officer who formerly was an Associated Press and Minneapolis newspaperman.)

By JAY VESSELS

An American airbase in Tunisia, April 3—(Delayed)—(P)—The combat boys on the North African front are beginning to learn first-hand—and certainly so are the Heines—what the French meant back in the earlier days of the Tunisian battle when they tagged the P40's "the guerrilla fighters."

They are beginning to know because the P40 lads are stamping their flaming brand into Jerry's groaning carcass with a ferocity that unswervingly sticks to the rugged tradition established by their former leader, the fiery Lieut. Colonel Phillip G. Cochran, 32, of Erie, Pa.

A big part of the fighter show on the sector that became so hot when Rommel's Africa corps made its late March bid formerly was run by Cochran. He headlined the show and his daring performances made him a legend with the French because they were the ground force mainstay and were amply qualified to know the results that the dynamic little fighter chieftain consistently obtained. Cochran, then a major, so inspired his men that deeds of valor were commonplace.

Now he has moved on to other work but the precedent he set is being energetically followed by his old command.

Actually it is a new type of war the old Cochran outfit is fighting but the results are primarily the same. In the old guerrilla days the P40 boys operated on a hit and run basis. They functioned in small units. They weren't looking for combat with Jerry. They could not risk that chance with the big job they had to do and what they had to do with it. They hedgedhopped through the area smashing troop movements, supply dumps, vehicular traffic and gun concentrations. They shot up anything that moved and some things that didn't.

Their shooting aim wasn't bad, either, when it came to combat, and occasionally when the handicapped was not too great they tangled with Jerry and gained great respect therefrom.

Now the old Cochran punch in a new setting has become the sensation of the Tunisian front. Superior flying plus deadly surprise tactics gave them the winning margin. The present outfit is headed by Colonel William W. Monyer, 28, of Seattle, who led a recent spurge of 34 Nazi planes downed in five days by shooting down five of the planes himself. His bag of four Stukas in a single engagement is an aerial classic in itself.

Another Cochran headman helping pace the current assault is Major Levi R. Chase, 25, of Cortland, N. Y., whom Cochran tabbed a "one man wave of destruction." As of April 1, Colonel Monyer and Major Chase are tied for top honors with eight Nazis each.

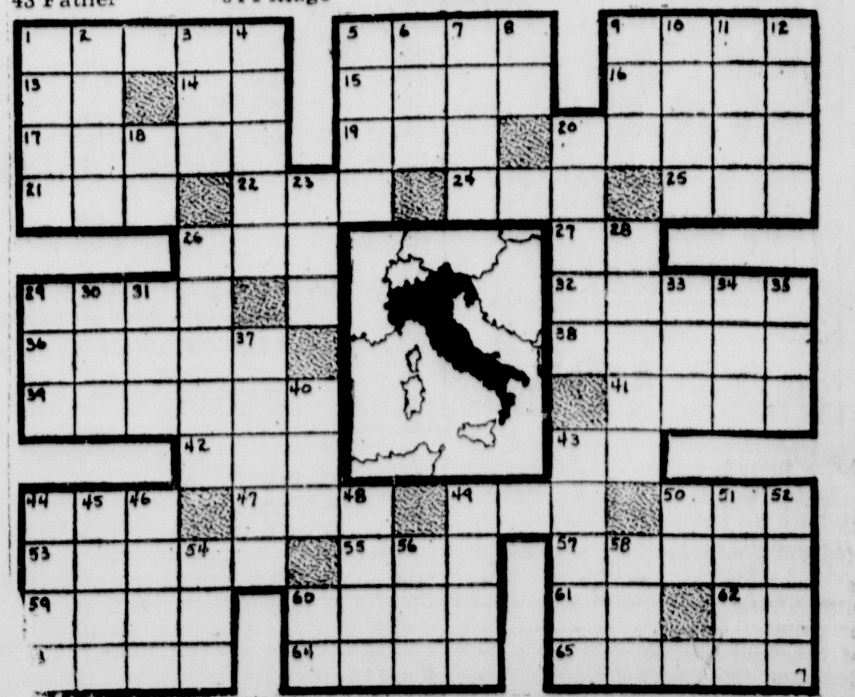

Other members of the old outfit now shining with new lustre include Lieut. James W. Gray, 23, of Sumnerfield, La., a crossroads storekeeper, and Lieut. Thomas A. Thomas, Jr., of Ada, Okla., a baby-faced chap who easily grew heavy whiskers to look the part of a guerrilla fighter.

Recently Jerry tangled with the outfit over the target. Two Nazis were downed on their own airport but Jerry didn't learn. He followed the P40 lads clear back to their home base and there he did learn. (Turn to Page Eight)

Invasion "Big Ten"

AP Features

These are the men of the U. S. Army entrusted with carrying the fight directly to the enemy. Theirs is the job to strike—and invade. The success of a mission depends primarily on all the arms shown. Behind them are more branches and services—intelligence, finance department, morale among them—but at the floodtide of conflict the "Big Ten" rule.

AIR CORPS

Scouting, fighting, bombing are the tasks of Army planes. They spot and soften enemy positions, protect landing operations.

INFANTRY

The backbone of any man's army, the Infantry seizes and holds objectives. The rifle is its mainstay—plus grenades, tanks.

ARMORED FORCE

Tanks of all sizes and heavy mobile guns of the Armored Forces are used to break through, encircle enemy positions.

FIELD ARTILLERY

Motorized equipment hauls the big guns into position. Artillerymen are equipped with everything from pistols to 155-mm. cannon.

CHEMICAL WARFARE

Flame-throwers, smoke screens and anti-gas precautions are the field of this highly-specialized corps of experts.

SIGNAL CORPS

They install, maintain and operate field telephone systems and radio walkie-talkie outfits for fast communication at the front.

ENGINEERS

Soldiers as well as technicians, these men are up front, destroying obstacles, building roads and bridges, fighting while they work.

ORDNANCE

Supply and maintenance of weapons, ammunition is the Ordnance Department's job. Its machine shops and dumps follow the troops.

QUARTERMASTER CORPS

Prodigies of planning and transport are required to keep advancing troops supplied with food and clothing—even barter goods.

MEDICAL

Rescue and care of wounded devolves on this department. It protects health of army, includes thousands of doctors, nurses, dentists.

Scouts Putting the Finishing Touches On Plans For Meet

Scout Troops of Warren County are putting the finishing touches to their part in the annual First Aid and Emergency Service Meet to be held at Beatty Junior High School on Saturday night, April 17th, according to B. W. Knapp, chairman of the Camping and Activities Committee. It was also learned that several of the troops where transportation is an insurmountable obstacle are planning to use the program of the show for a parents night program in their own communities. These will be developed as an inter-patrol contest to provide every Scout the opportunity to participate.

Highlights in the evenings program at Beatty Junior High School will include a grand entry of all Scouts, community singing, musical selections, first aid contest, obstacle race, a troop demonstration of marching and Scout formations, using only hand signals, a demonstration of Scout packs, an equipment race. The evening's program will come to a conclusion with the singing of The Star Spangled Banner and the Scoutmaster's Benediction led by Dr. J. A. Davidson.

Entry blanks for the various contests are in the hands of each Scoutmaster. It is expected that the entry blanks will be returned to the local Boy Scout office by Saturday, April 10th. Guest tickets have been given to each Scout for his parents and friends. The show will begin at 7:30 o'clock and is open to the public.

Troops at the far distant points in the county who are planning to stage their own First Aid and Emergency Service Meet are Ludlow, Troop 50, under the leadership of Walter S. Cox, Scoutmaster and Homer Gilfert, Assistant Scoutmaster; Troop 27 Tidoute, under the leadership of Mr. E. H. Cornish, Scoutmaster. A meeting in Youngsville is being planned under the leadership of Gilbert Sanford and will include Troops 29 Pittsfield, Scoutmaster Paul Franklin; 22 Irvine, Gerald Lawson, Scoutmaster; and 31 Youngsville, Russell Crippen, Scoutmaster.

The committee responsible for the leadership of the show at Beatty School includes the following: B. W. Knapp, chairman; W. E. Lutz, D. E. Conway, C. W. Barwis, Nick Anderson, Earle G. Flohr, H. A. Otterson, R. L. Endress, C. Vance Weld, Paul Reynolds, C. Ray Lewis, T. M. Engle, George Toner, Dr. Wm. Ball, H. L. Banghart, Dr. J. A. Davidson, and Chester R. Seymour.

SAVE MONEY, YOU'LL WANT TO HEAR WARREN'S VISITING WAR HERO

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, April 7.—(P)—Horse race bettors who have been enjoying an enforced vacation for a few days will have a fresh lot of horses to put their money on when the eastern season opens tomorrow. . . . Most of the southern favorites haven't reached Jamaica yet, and Narragansett, which opens Saturday, has only about half as many nags as usual. . . . The reason—transportation. . . . Shanty Hogan will manage the ball team and Rabbit Maranville will coach at the Fore River, Mass., shipyard where they're both working. And between them they'll probably drown out all the riveters. . . . Al Buck is back covering the fight and horse race beats for the N. Y. Post after being discharged from the army because of age.

No. 1 Fan—One reason why all good ball players seem to wind up at the Norfolk Naval station is Capt. H. A. McClure, commanding officer at the base. . . . He's the only non-player allowed to sit on the bench; he's the first one to congratulate anyone who socks a homer and the other day when Dom DiMaggio tumbled over the fence chasing a fly, the captain jumped into the nearest car and whizzed to see if he was hurt.

Shorts and Shells—The Dodgers recently asked the Connecticut interscholastic athletic conference for a list of high school coaches they could contact for names of boys eligible for a summer training camp. The conference turned down the request. . . . Arturo Godoy is all set to come to the United States after he fights Fernando Menichelli in Santiago, Chile, April 24. . . . That Louisville company that makes the bats for big league baseballers is turning out a side line of policemen's billys. Maybe the unps could use a few. . . . Young T. Stripling, son of the former boxer, is a promising sprinter at a Macon, Ga., high school. . . . French Bordagaray, who once vowed the Dodgers with his whistles, will be one of the "battering rams" who play against the mBums in a movie that's being shot at Ebbets Field.

Today's Guest Star—Henry Vance, Birmingham, (Ala.) Age-Herald: "Any ball player who has 12 kids, lumbago and a couple of arches on the verge of falling will be pretty much in demand. Now the fight promoters are wondering whether to book a movie with the next card.

HAROLD BROWN LANDS SAFELY OVERSEAS

Harold Brown, one of the most versatile athletes ever turned out by Warren High School, has arrived safely at an undisclosed South Pacific port, according to information received here today. Brown, it will be remembered, starred in football from '38-'39 and gained two letters at a backfield post. He played basketball from '39-'40 for the varsity and made two letters at that time. Also he was noted for his prowess as a track and baseball player for Warren High. He played baseball for the State Hospital up until last year and also had experience in semi-pro football with the local team. Brown is with the U. S. Marines.

PITT CANCELS GAME WITH BUCKNELL U.

Pittsburgh, April 7.—(P)—Finding it impossible to make travel arrangements, the University of Pittsburgh cancelled the opening game of its baseball schedule with Bucknell University at Lewisburg on Friday, April 16. The Panthers are scheduled to play the Navy at Annapolis on April 17, and could not arrange to play both teams. On the way home the Jungle Cats will stop at State College on April 19 to play Penn State and will meet Bucknell here on April 28.

Central Catholic Searching For Man

Allentown, Pa., April 7.—(P)—Central Catholic High School, looking for a new all-sports coach, conferred at length last night with Elwood "Woody" Ludwig, athletic director at Shamokin High School, but no announcement of any agreement was made. Neither Leo Crowe, basketball coach, nor John Cavalier, football mentor, will return to Central Catholic next fall.

"Bucky" Harris Glad To Get Away From Pitcher Newsom

Hershey, April 7.—(P)—This probably sounds like a guy cheering the arrival of his mother-in-law, but Stanley R. Harris is getting "a terrific kick" out of managing the Phillies.

It could be that Bucky's thrill comes from the knowledge that he definitely has escaped from Bobo Newsom, because at his request, Bill Cox, the Phils' new owner, turned thumbs down when Branch Rickey wanted to trade him the big wind from Hartsville, S. C. Bucky admits that when Bobo could pitch, there was at least a reason to put up with him, "but now that he can't pitch much any more, well—"

Or it could be that the bang Bucky gets comes from getting away from the Washington Senators, which could hardly be called a manager's garden of Eden, with or without apple trees. Yet, jumping from the Nats to the Phillies would appear to be something like making a choice between wearing tight shoes or just having your toes pinched with a pair of pliers.

TRAINING CAMP BRIEFS

By the Associated Press
Indianapolis—Hard luck is pursuing Pitcher Bill Brandt of the Pittsburgh Pirates. He twisted his left knee in a basketball game during the Pirates' first week of drills and yesterday a line drive off the bat of Maurice Van Rys struck him above the right knee. The Bucs remained here over night and will try for their third in a row against Cleveland today.

Wilmington, Del.—Connie Mack says he is going to use his pitchers in relays and doesn't mind if not a single one is able to go nine innings—as long as the Philadelphia A's win. He has numerous hurlers but his best veterans are Lum Harris, Roger Wolff and Russ Christopher.

Ju-Jitsu Named As Big Item In Post War Athletics With Bayonets Replacing Fencing

Philadelphia, April 7.—(P)—Bayonet fighting and ju-jitsu will be all the rage as spectator sports after the war, drawing bigger crowds than professional boxing and wrestling, William J. Herrmann said today.

And Herrmann, scion of four generations of physical culturists, ought to know. For 150 years before him his family made a neat living by catering to the whims of sports devotees here and in Europe, and Herrmann himself, a former U. S. fencing and middle-weight professional wrestling champion, has operated a public gymnasium here for 45 years.

"After the first war, fencing was all the rage," he said, "and after this war it will be bayonet fighting and ju-jitsu that people will want to see—the kind of close combat that the marines are making famous. We put on a ju-jitsu show at the stage door canteen the other day, and it absolutely brought down the house."

Bayonet fighters, Herrmann said, will use the same protective equipment that fencers now use, and there will be strict ju-jitsu rules to keep professionals from breaking each other's necks, figuratively and literally.

As evidence of the increasing interest in the Japanese specialty, Herrmann cited the experience of one of his instructors after the canteen show.

"The servicemen there got so interested they asked him to try holds on them," he said. "There wasn't any mat, but they just forgot about it and let themselves get tossed around on the hard floor."

Herrmann, now 73 years old, taught close combat fighting to the marines in the last war. He was a captain and major and served under Col. Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, now giving the same marine instruction again.

Philadelphia, April 7.—(P)—The City League secretary, Harry Wooster, set up his final plans and line-ups for the tournament to be held within the league beginning next Monday evening at 7:30 p. m. Captains are urged to be at the alleys at 7:00 p. m. to get the prize money divided before the tournament gets under way.

The schedule:
Five man, April 12:
Fadale's Amusement Co. vs. Recreation Center 1-2; Warren Billiard Acd. vs. Koch's Busy Bee, 3-4; Texas Lunch vs. Chimento's Rest, 5-6.

Doubles-Singles April 19:
Koch's-Julian A. Patchen; L. Kapp-Waples.
Teams—M. Check-D. Check; Lundquist-E. Lynch.
Chimento's—Anderson-Logan; Hoagvall-Wooster.

Warren Billiard-Hagberg-Malone; Grosch-Gerard.
Christensen-Randnell.
Fadale-Dr. J. Giunta.
Karlson-Walsh.

Bab's Barbers and Paramount in their feud for the leadership of the league, still wound up as they were as the teams split a decision. Shields with 234-616 led the Barbers and Johnson with 223-603 led the furniture boys.

Butter-Kruse with Harry Clepper losing 224-697 and Stephens 214-558 was too much for the Crossett's as they dropped four points. Hedberg's 200-546 led the losers.

Heat Treat trounced their rivals the Forge Shop four points as Pawk's 542 led the winners and Aumer's 213-557 the losers.

Times-Mirror pulling their way out of the cellar trounced the Kinnears four points on Bleach's 258-598 and with the help of Joy's 202-598, Fielding's 505 led the losers.

Draft Sque-e-ze On Married Men

12½ MILLION CALLED UP 9½ MILLION AVAILABLE

AP Feature

These are reasons why the calling up of large numbers of married men, without or with children, is becoming an increasing necessity under the nation's military program. The left (shaded) side of the chart shows how 12½ million men from a pool of 22 million between 18 and 38 have already been classified in the process of inducting 6 million into the armed forces. By the end of 1943 the military is planning to have an additional 5 million in service; and the right side of the chart shows how the remaining 9½ million in the age pool will be divided in the process of supplying the new 5 million. The Army has halted the calling of men over 38, but should inductions from the 35-45 age group be resumed, about 6½ million more men would be added to the draft pool, of which about 40 per cent would shift through for military duty. The chart figures are based upon unofficial but authoritative estimates.

Musicales Is Sponsored By Bible Class

Sheffield, April 6—The Young Woman's Bible class is again sponsoring a Lenten Musical. They have arranged a fine service, with both outside and local talent taking part. Byron Swanson, widely known Warren organist, will play several Lenten selections. Included in the service will be selections from the sacred cantata "The Crucifixion," by Stainer, with Harold Knappenberger, Jr., from Warren as tenor soloist. Miss Evelyn Norlin, a local soloist, will render two numbers—"O Divine Redeemer" by Gounod and "Gethsemane" by Salter. This Lenten musical will be on Sunday afternoon, April 12, at 3 p. m. A vital message is often brought through Christian music, and there could be no better setting for this message than the season of Lent.

A preference for the Navy Branch of the United States armed forces was indicated by the majority of candidates for the Army Specialized Training program and the Naval College Training program when they took the qualifying examinations here last Friday. L. O. Eisenhower revealed that fifteen of the examinees made their bids for the Navy and Army.

SWANSON-JOHNSON
Miss Ellen Johnson daughter of Mrs. Helen Johnson of Kane, Pa., and Loughton Swanson of Erie, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Swanson of Sheffield were united in marriage at 4 p. m. Saturday, April 3rd in the Tabor Lutheran church at Kane, by Rev. Leslie.

DIRECTORS ARE ELECTED
Following the luncheon meeting of the Rotarians Tuesday—the directors were elected for the coming year. John Baynes, W. P. Dorrison, Milton Dunn, L. O. Eisenhower, L. B. Jones, Rev. Ivan Rossell and Dr. Robert L. Taylor.

Guests at the meeting were G. R. Ball of Youngsville and Andy Pochatko a senior student of the high school.

Last week's Rotarian meeting was in charge of Harry Baldensperger who entertained the members at the Utopian Theatre by showing the films of March of Time and Spirit of Democracy.

FARM NEWS

Harrisburg, April 5 (AP)—Secretary Miles Horst of the Department of Agriculture is calling on Pennsylvania farmers to share more extensively with neighbors their farm machinery and draught animals.

"Farmers now are cooperating in the use of machinery but will have to do much more of it," he declared in an interview on how the state's farmers are meeting wartime problems.

Horst said plans to use soldiers on Pennsylvania farms to relieve the manpower pinch were not adapted to this state's type of agriculture, pointing out the average farm here has only 86 acres.

HORSE PRAIRIE BY CLEM COLT

YESTERDAY: The Stampede Cattle Co. brings in the sheriff and orders the arrest of Tubac Jones on several trumped up charges. Tubac floors one of the directors and is ordered out of the county by the sheriff.

Chapter 3

TUBAC JONES kept going, but not a fearful great ways. He kept going until the upthrust brow of a sugarloaf hill cut off all view of the grinning escort; and after that he dropped down in the dappled shade of some wolf's candle and pulled off his boots with a doleful groan. That had been Lot Deckerman's notion, unhorsing him at the boundary and sending him off on shanks mare.

"Fine kettle of fish!" growled Tubac bitterly, gingerly inspecting his blistered feet. That he'd been paid for the horse was small consolation. The most malicious insult devised by man was to leave a waddy afoot in this country; and Tubac Jones was never the man to forgive or forget an injury. He was thinking what he would do to Lot Deckerman when he saw dust coming up the trail. He yanked the returned gun out of his belt and glared down the trail. He did not, however, bother getting up—not even when a horse herd broke round the bend.

The rider with the herd angled over, leering eyes taking in Jones' situation.

The rider angled over, leering eyes taking in Jones' situation.

"NEVER ming laughin'," Tubac growled, and let the rider have a squint at his gun. "Cut me out one of them shad bellied n—"

"You mean one of these here racin' thoroughbreds?"

"I don't care what you call 'em. Just cut me out one an' quit gasin'."

"What'll you give me for the entire herd?"

"I ain't no circus man," Jones came back dryly.

"You don't know what you're passin' up, friend. Why, with this remuda you could open a stable—"

"You mean a glue factory, don'tcha?" Jones made to pull on his boots, but his feet had swollen and he quit with an oath. "I'll want a bill of sale—"

"O! Snaggle-Tooth Potter wouldn't gyp nobody—"

"I'll take your John Henry just the same."

"As you please," Potter growled. "How much you want?"

"We—el make it twenty-five dollars—"

Jones got out his wallet. Potter's face registered surprise when he caught the edges of some of the bills as Tubac thumbed through them in search of a small one. He said, "What bank you been doin' business with, friend?"

"If I told you that," Tubac grunted, "you'd know most as much as I do."

Potter grinned. "What do they call you if I might ask?"

"You're lookin' at Tubac Jones, boss an' owner of the T Bar J—"

"Never heard of it. Where you located?"

"Squatin' on the Holeman grant."

"You're th— what! Did you say Holeman grant?"

"Nothin' wrong with your hearin'."

Potter mopped his head with a shirt-sleeve. "Mister, when the Stampede Hog an' Ca—"

"They already know about it," Jones grinned sourly. "That's howcome, I'm over here without no horse," he said; and told him the story.

Potter whistled. "An' you're allowin' t' go back for more?"

JONES scowled. "I'm goin' back all right. You watch my smoke! No whoppyjawed this an' that can treat Yours Truly like Deckerman done an' expect—"

"You don't know what you're bitin' off, pardner! Why, guys've been killed around here for less hell than you've raised already—"

"I ain't even got started yet."

"Are you loco?"

"Not so's you could notice it. I got pressin' business."

"You'll get a shutter if you go back there! It'd be plain suicide. The whole town's got their hooks in that grant. You ain't jest fightin' Haines an' Lot Deckerman—"

"I got a batch o' goods bought at McGillis' store an'—"

"If you know who ol' man McGillis is? Lemme tell you, brother! Archie McGillis, among other things, is boss director of the Stampede Hog an' Cattle Company, an' the minute he sees your mug in town—"

"I'll take care of that when I meet it," Jones scowled. "It ain't your funeral anyhow."

IT WAS crowding toward dusk when Tubac Jones rode back to the scene of his recent defeat. The lamps of Stockton spilled pools of light through the felted shadows and from one of its honkytonks came the scrape of a fiddle.

He'd more urgent reasons for coming back than the supplies he'd mentioned to Potter. The first and foremost of these was his white-stockinged roan, Calliope. He had raised the horse himself from a colt and it could do everything but talk.

It was hardly likely, he thought, that Deckerman had given the horse a second look—or the sheriff, either, for that matter. Their main idea had been to set him afoot as a hint that the going was going to be rough if he had the nerve to come back here. A sly man, Lot, and fresh as they come—but Jones aimed to be a little fresher.

It was a pretty safe bet, he told himself, they had put Calliope in some public corral or feed barn. He found the horse at the first one he tackled. He flipped the stableman a couple of silver dollars and stooped down to lift up his saddle.

"Hold on there!"

Jones gave him a mackerel-eyed stare; and the man said, "What in thunder you think you're doin'?"

"I'm gettin' ready to saddle my horse—"

"Well, you kin jest put that saddle back down on the floor. The Sheriff brought that critter in here, an' here he stays till like Shallet says diff'rent!"

JONES did some quick thinking. The last thing he wanted was a row. "Didn't he tell you I'd be comin' after it?"

"He didn't tell me nothin'!"

"Humph—dang funny Ne'mind; I'll have him gimme a note to you. Just get the nag saddled. I'll be back in a jiffy," Jones said, and wheeled out of the stable and around the corner where he tore a page from his tally book. "Give beaver the white-stockinged roan," he wrote with a grin; and signed Shallet's name with a flourish. Then he went back into the stable.

The hostler stood just where Jones had left him. "Like Shallet never more than that, mister."

"How the hell," Jones scowled, "do you make that out? You ain't even taken a look at it—"

"I don't have to look at it," the stableman said; and then Jones saw the sheriff.

under cultivation.

On the following problems, the secretary made these observations:

Diversion from farm crops—"farmers are responding to the requirements or the government for expansion in needed products. Soy beans are a good example."

The manpower shortage—"farmers are using more inexperienced labor."

Machinery shortage—"This is serious in Pennsylvania, particularly in the case of milking machines and replacements for worn out machinery. Throughout Pennsylvania schools and extension services are conducting schools and meetings on the repairs of farm machines."

Farm tenancy—"Here's one place where we have our greatest problem because many tenants have left farms and some of these farms are going to be idle this summer."

Women and children—"Our farm women and children are helping out and deserve a lot of credit. We hope to enroll a considerable number this summer and they will make a valuable contribution."

Victory gardens—"We're aiming at 1,400,000 victory gardens in the state this year. Every county has a victory garden committee within the counties, most communities have local committees.

We have an intensive education campaign. Cities like Philadelphia and Pittsburgh and many others are providing facilities in land and canning equipment. Victory gardens are expected to make a very substantial contribution to the family dining table."

James E. Walker, chairman of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's state war board today warned farmers that measures to prevent soil erosion are especially timely during wartime when land is worked more extensively.

Urging farmers to plant trees wherever practicable, Walker said the flood waters which cause soil damage in northern Pennsylvania last year resulted chiefly from heavy local rains which would not have been dangerous if soil stability had been stressed beforehand rather than dike-building along rivers.

"Trees planted on upper hillside result in valuable woodlots which are the best possible means of holding water on the hills, thus insuring a constant water supply for livestock the year around, as well as preventing lower pastures from burning out in the heat of summer," Walker declared.

"If pasture land is improved with lime and superphosphate, the pastured area may be contracted and cattle will need to walk less in their feeding and will produce more milk."

Trees are offered farmers through the agricultural conservation program. The charge is 30 cents per thousand for seedlings and 60 cents per thousand for transplants.

TIMES TOPICS

TWO FIRE ALARMS

Two still alarms this afternoon called the emergency truck from the Central station and Engine Company No. 2 to the river bank near the Axe Works. Grass was burning and fanned by the wind threatened to do some damage.

MERCURY STILL LOW

The old Weatherman turned on the chills again during the night and this morning the mercury registered 17 above. It was too chilly for comfort and the promise of warmer weather with rain will be received not too badly by the residents of this section.

BLACKOUT THIS MONTH

Some time during the present month another blackout is promised. The date has not been set nor will any announcement be made until the alarm is sounded. The rules which have governed the past few blackouts will be in force.

CLEVER PUBLICATION

A copy of "Kane Shirt Tales" issued by the Kane Shirt Factory and edited by Graydon Smart, of Kane, has arrived at the Times-Mirror. It is a clever publication and the cover featuring a view of the plant room and the employees of the plant is well done. The contents are above the average for a publication of the kind.

IN APPRECIATION

I wish to thank all my friends for the lovely cards, letters and flowers sent me, also to thank the friends who visited me in my lonely hours while I was in the Warren Hospital.

Youth Admits Killing Four-Year-Old Girl

(From Page One)

Lieut. Daugherty and Homicide Detective Francis Flannery took Earl Perry into custody later. A newsboy led them to the youth, who had been one of the closest friends of Williams' oldest boy "Sonny."

Dr. J. W. McMeans, coroner's physician, said an autopsy disclosed Theresa was raped and strangled to death.

Daugherty quoted Perry as saying he choked her with his hands while she fought and "tried to scream but couldn't."

On discovering her body, Theresa's father, enraged, seized an ax and started up the cellar steps. As detectives restrained him, he wept and collapsed.

Perry had joined a crowd of neighbors who searched in the neighborhood 10 hours for the girl, thinking she might have walked into one of the homes and fallen asleep.

Daugherty said he took other members of the Perry family into custody as material witnesses "chiefly for their own protection because of the anger of the residents." They included the parents, two sisters and an aunt of the youth.

Chief probation officer Walter J. Rome said that Perry, son of an Italian-born tailor, was on probation from juvenile court.

which have been busy through the winter carrying fuel oil to the east.

The conference, called by the mayors of Meadville, Erie, and Bradford, was precipitated by a recent OPA proposal to remove four Mercer county towns from the eastern zone where coupons are worth only a gallon and a half a week.

In the last few weeks, various groups from the western part of the state have carried petitions to Petroleum Administrator Harold L. Ickes but all save the Mercer countians have met with refusal.

While the conference was called merely "to discuss the gasoline situation," it was indicated that a new plea to Washington would be formulated and that representatives would be named to present the arguments to administrator Ickes.

ENEMY POSITIONS ON KISKA ARE BOMBED

Washington, April 7.—(P)—The navy reported today that forces of army heavy and medium bombers raided Japanese positions on Kiska island in the Aleutians five times Monday and scored hits on enemy positions.

The Monday raids on Kiska raised to 51 the total number of attacks made against that enemy held island since March 1 when the current aerial offensive in the Aleutians got under way.

MRS. ROOSEVELT TO SPEAK

San Francisco, April 7.—(P)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt will speak over a nation-wide radio hookup tonight (7 P. M. eastern war time) on behalf of the Red Cross.

RATION BOOKS STOLEN

Philadelphia, April 7.—(P)—Thieves entered the office of ration board No. 4 for the second time in six months yesterday, and left with 1,100 No. 1 war ration books, 392 food certificates and 1,500 sugar certificates. Police believe they used a pass key. The certificates were taken from an unlocked safety box.

MANY VIOLATORS

Wanted---55 Persons Who Wish to Volunteer in Project

Fifty-five persons represent the difference between success and failure of the next visit of the Mobile Unit of the Red Cross Blood, due in Warren April 19th and 20th.

M. G. Keller, Chairman of the local Blood Bank Committee, issues an appeal to all persons who wish to volunteer for this important adjunct of the Red Cross war activity do enroll this week so they may be assigned a day to appear for their donation on one of the two days mentioned. The hours for making donations each day are from 1 to 4 and from 5 to 7.

With Army and Navy demands on the Red Cross for 4,000,000 pints of blood, more than three times last year's production, the local Chapter of the American Red Cross is working over-time to find new donors who have not as yet volunteered.

Pointing out that over 770 persons in Warren have already made donations and that approximately 500 new volunteers will be needed before the year is over and official of the Blood Bank Committee said yesterday that these 55 donors must be had and had soon.

"When one considers," he added "that approximately 2,000,000 pints of blood have been donated it means that during the last 14 months over 1,000,000 persons have been willing to give of their and 45 minutes of their time—in the knowledge that such a step would result in the saving of a life of some member of our armed forces."

Donors, both men and women, accepted between the ages of 21 and 60. Those between 18 and 21 may volunteer and make a donation, providing they first secure and sign a minor's release. This must be signed by the applicant as well as one parent or guardian of the donor in question.

Application Blanks may be filled out at any of Warren's drug stores. Persons who fill out such blanks within the next few days will be called by Red Cross Headquarters and assigned a certain hour either Monday the 19th, or on Tuesday the 20th which are the days the mobile unit of the Red Cross will next visit Warren. The period assigned is made to fit the wishes of the person volunteering, insofar as practical.

Those persons who may not be able to make a donation in April are urged to volunteer now and indicate that they will be willing to appear for a donation in May. Regular visits of the Buffalo Mobile Unit are scheduled in Warren each month from April on. The dates will be the third Monday and Tuesday of each month. Red Cross Headquarters will give all volunteer donors definite hours of appointment, well in advance of each month's visit.

Post War Planning Provides Improvements at Hospital

The North Warren State Hospital under a plan given to the house of representatives today by Miss S. M. R. O'Hara would receive an appropriation of $200,000 for rewiring and an addition to the water supply system. The projects will undoubtedly be approved but not carried out until after the war. The suggestion made by Welfare Secretary O'Hara in her presentation of the projects for the local institution stated that "these projects are designed to correct conditions highly prejudicial to economical and efficient operation of institutions but not accompanied with immediate demands for corrections."

Several projects of a more imperative nature were presented as "critical conditions" in housing facilities at several institutions. She sent to the house appropriations committee a lengthy statement of plans for a $9,357,000 improvement program proposed in a bill introduced by Rep. Lloyd H. Wood (R-Montgomery county) who said many institutions are "in a deplorable state" and that a number of buildings are "fire hazards."

Miss O'Hara called for improvement ranging from $3,490,000 at the Philadelphia State Hospital to reconstruction of piggery buildings at Morgantown Training School. Twenty-one institutions are included in her program.

Of the improvements suggested for the Warren State Hospital the rewiring would be done in the center section of the main building and in some of the outlying buildings. The wings of the main building were rewired and an emergency lighting system installed about ten years ago. The emergency lighting system and much rewiring will be imperative soon in the center of the main buildings and the outlying buildings.

Just what the water supply addition plans are composed of are not known locally at present but there is need, with expanded facilities, for additional water supply in many parts of the big institution.

Commandos Search For Time Killers

Warren's Junior Commando's will extend their campaign for athletic supplies and musical instruments for some days as the response to their appeal for such articles for men held in war prison camps has not been overly generous. The campaign is being conducted in conjunction with the Y. M. C. A. and Red Cross and the need is great.

Thousands of men from the United States are held as prisoners in camps of the enemy and time hangs heavily on their hands and to that end the campaign to secure articles that can be used in playing various athletic games and contests was put in motion. The response has not been good and Colonel Russell Elliott is urging that every good sport in town get busy. There should be dozens of baseballs contributed as well as footballs, volley balls, basketballs and similar paraphernalia.

Musical instruments are also being sought and any kind of a musical instrument from a mouth organ to a bass drum will be welcomed. It is hoped by the national committee to get sufficient informed, orchestras set to get the instruments that bands may be saving music going and mouth organs wheezing. Warren folk Migraine headache of point rationing to many housewives is the arithmetic involved in figuring out how to get the most food for the least points. Galloping to their rescue comes mathematically-minded Lionel Levy, of Forest Hills, N. Y., who figured out the A-B-C code of quantity-per-point values used in the chart above.

Code letter "A" represents the size container giving you the most points for the points expended; "B" represents the next best point buy and "C" the poorest. Remember that one pound equals 16 ounces and that every can in your grocery store is marked with the weight of its contents. Here's how the code system works, taking for an example tomato juice, which comes in cans or jars containing varying numbers of ounces.

If you buy two 20-ounce cans costing 12 points per can, you spend 24 points for 40 ounces of tomato juice. Now, a 47-ounce can of tomato juice calls for 22 points. If you buy one of these cans, you not only save 2 points, but get 7 ounces more of tomato juice. Therefore, the 47-ounce can is your best point buy and is coded "A".
The chart includes but a partial list of foods, so learn how to figure out for yourself which size can is the best point saver.

Divide the points required by the number of ounces in the can and you'll have the fraction of a point per ounce each can costs. The lower the fraction, the better the buy. Example: 11 ounces of creamed corn cost 8 points; 8 divided by 11 equals .727—a "C" buy. A 17-ounce can cost 11 points; 17 into 11 equals .647 the "A" buy. Creamed corn's "B" buy is the 20-ounce can, costing 14 points; 20 into 14 equals .7.
The original A-B-C chart suggests that you make up your market list in terms of amount-per-points—spent before you set out to buy food.

with regret, for the score that day was six dead Nazi pilots and everybody present and accounted for with the P40s.
Next time the old guerrilla gang got seven, then eight and finally smashed ten German planes in a single day.

COLLEGE CLUB

College Club members are reminded that they must make reservations no later than Thursday for the April meeting to be held at eight o'clock Friday night at the YWCA activities building. These are to be made by calling Miss Katherine Hutchinson, 1087-R, after six o'clock.

TABITHA SOCIETY

The Tabitha Sewing Society will be entertained Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Christ Kuhre, Linwood street, and all members and friends are welcome.

BOMBS ON THE RANGE

Cattle and sheep of western states have been sharing their homes on the range with Uncle Sam's bombers and with soldiers being trained for war. More than 3,500,000 acres of public lands in federal grazing districts in 10 western states were withdrawn for military use last year.
